7. Read the given passage and answer the question:

It is amazing to know how Helen Keller has inspired so many people. Helen Keller rose with blind, deaf and mute from early childhood. She was born on June 27, 1880, in a small Alabama Town of Tuscumbia. She was absolutely normal when she was born and up to nineteen months, she enjoyed her childhood. When she was diagnosed with brain fever, she was unable to see, hear or speak. When her mother made her bath, she noticed that Helen's eyes did not close. She learned that Helen was blind and took her to an oculist. Later, she noticed that Helen was not able to hear and unable to speak by the age of three. Next, she noticed that the child did not respond to sound. Helen would scream for no reason and throw tantrum. Anne Sullivan, an Irish girl, was not only a tutor to Helen but also a companion of the next fifty years. She looked after Helen in a cottage and was a great support to her.

What is the first symptom of Helen?

- a) inability to walk
- b) blindness
- c) brain fever
- d) inability to see, hear or speak
